Red Cross Drive Over the Top

Quota Is Passed For Red Cross

Additional Funds To Be Asked From Those Who Have Not Contributed

Randall county went over the top on the Red Cross War Drive. The total subscription Tuesday amounted to $3,207.02. The quota for the county was $2,600.

T. V. Reeves, county chairman, states that the subscription would be continued in order that all who have not had the opportunity to pay into the fund may do so. He will issue a detailed statement in a few days as to the number of persons who have contributed to this special War Drive of the Red Cross.

Those who worked in this campaign are very grateful to the people of the county for the splendid response which has been given to the call.

In addition to this war drive, the Red Cross sewing room has been in operation three afternoons every week, and hundreds of articles have been completed for the men in service.

Airport Needed In Development For the Future

The need of a modern airport for Canyon was stressed Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon by George W. Cox and President J. A. Hill.

Both of the speakers have been closely identified with the development of aviation facilities at West Texas State. Mr. Cox has the contract to provide flight instruction to the students.

Mr. Cox pointed to the present program, and what it meant to this community, and then predicted that a much greater extent of air transportation would be used after this war.

Dr. Hill traced briefly the development of transportation down thru the years. Transportation has always changed the mode of men's lives. He believes that air transportation will bring about a great change in the life of the nation.

The town without an airport to serve these changing conditions will be lost in progress. In dealing with the West Texas Flying Field, Dr. Hill noted several demands: Proximity to town; must be on a paved highway; must be on a transcontinental highway; large enough to accommodate large planes.

The land on which the flying field is located is leased, and Canyon should start plans now to procure a permanent site, stated Mr. Hill.

So important is aviation that the college is now required to give courses to teachers who will instruct boys and girls in the public schools.

The cause of aviation as affecting the future of Canyon was very forcefully presented by both Mr. Cox and Dr. Hill.

Senate Group to Reduce College Funds in Bill

The Finance Committee of the State Senate has recommended an appropriation of $220,144 for West Texas State for each of the coming two years.

This is a reduction of 9½% of appropriations of the past two years on salaries, maintenance and summer school. President J. A. Hill has been required to submit itemized lists on this basis.

Owing to the reduced attendance in all colleges due to the war, the legislators are recommending this reduction in the support of all state educational institutions.

Dr. Hill has received no word from the Appropriations Committee of the House, but is expecting to receive the total sum which will be recommended by this committee for the coming two years.

Tire Inspectors To Meet Friday a. m.

All tire inspectors of Randall county will meet Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the office of the War Price and Rationing Board.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Simms of Phillips, visited over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Heath and family.

Manpower Survey Being Made

Jack Farley Is Among the Killed

Young Randall County Boy Victim of Japs in Navy Engagement In November

JACK DEMPSEY FARLEY

Jack Dempsey Farley has been officially reported as dead according to notice to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Farley.

He was reported missing in action while serving with the U. S. Navy in the Pacific. This action is reported to have taken place Nov. 30, 1942.

His parents were notified December 23 that he was missing, and since that time it has been definitely established that the boy was killed in action.

Jack was a student in the Canyon high school before enlisting in the navy August 15, 1942. He lacked only two credits of graduation. He was a member of the Eagles football squad and active in all student enterprises. He was 17 years old.

Stone Received To Complete the Museum Building

All of the stone to complete construction of the museum has been unloaded at the building. The stone was furnished by WPA, and will be the final part that this organization will have in the erection of the building.

The frame for the second unit has been up for several months, and money is being raised to complete the unit. Due to the priority rules on buildings it is uncertain when it will be possible to proceed with the erection of this unit.

April Call For Men is Reduced to Randall Co.

According to a telegram from State Headquarters of Selective Service, Randall county's call for men on April 27 was reduced 25%, or a total of eight men.

The original call was for 30 men to leave Canyon on the afternoon of April 26, and men were notified for this call.

Three men have volunteered and will leave here on the 15th: Lynson Easton Thomas, Jr., George Henry Vineyard, and Robert Alfred Bellah.

It was announced by Selective Service that there was no significance to the reduction in the April call for men, which ranged from 10% to 25% over the nation.

A large number of men who could engage in agriculture are being released from the army, especially those over 38 years of age.

Mrs. N. Hollenstein Died Tuesday p. m. at Amarillo Hospital

Mrs. Paula Artho Hollenstein, 57, died Tuesday at 12:30 p. m., at an Amarillo hospital where she had been under treatment. She is the wife of Nick Hollenstein of the Umbarger community.

The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's Church in Umbarger, conducted by Rev. J. Dolzie. Interment will be in the Umbarger Cemetery in charge of the Griggs-Thompson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Hollenstein was born in Switzerland. Nick Hollenstein went to Switzerland after her, and she returned to Randall county 29 years ago as his bride. The family has been among the prominent farmers of the county.

Surviving are: the husband and one son, Anton Hollenstein; her mother, Mrs. Paulina Artho of Switzerland; one brother, Paul Artho, of this county; one sister, Mrs. Mary Wagner, of Switzerland.

Shortage of Men Shown by Survey

Farm Units Are Set Up According to Regulation Under Selective Service

The Randall County USDA War Board is finishing up the Farm Manpower survey this week. This survey is made by listing the actual labor force on each farm in terms of man labor equivalent. Each man, woman and child over 10 years of age is credited with whatever farm work each does and this is expressed in terms of full time man equivalent. On this basis the board is able to make an estimate of the number of men required to man the farms of the county on a twelve month basis.

This estimate of the existing labor force is then compared to the total number of production units being carried on all farms in the County (not counting town gardens and poultry projects). The unit of food production is the one used as a National Standard by the Selective Service, and is the amount of labor required to milk, feed and care for one dairy cow on a 12-month basis. Sixteen of these units is considered to be a one man job.

The farm plan sheets for all farms in Randall county indicate that about 32,000 units of production is being planned on all farms and ranches in the county for 1943. This, according to National Standards, would require about 2,000 men equivalent.

However, the estimate of the existing labor force is just under 1,000 men, not counting temporary help, to operate all the farms in the county.

This would indicate a labor shortage of 1,000 men for the county. However, this is not the case since all farms are operated to full capacity and many wheat farmers are able to operate on a much higher unit basis than the National Standard owing to the efficient use of machinery, the operation of large acreage units and efficient management as well as skilled machine operators.

There is a shortage of several hundred men according to the best estimates the War Board is able to make at this time.

To what extent seasonable labor will be employed to relieve this shortage will depend on many factors, such as, the size of the wheat harvest, the availability of labor and wages farmers are able to pay.

The County USDA War Board will estimate the actual labor shortage based on current needs each month during the year.

March Bond Sale Short of the Month's Quota

The sale of War Bonds in Randall county was $793.75 under the quota, according to a report from R. H. Wright, county chairman.

The quota for the month was $21,300.

The sales for the month amounted to $20,506.25.

With the second big war Loan Drive starting April 12, an effort will be made to meet the $93,000 quota of the month as well as take up the deficit for the year.

Farmers To Double Acreage Sorghum

Feed Becomes Scarce as Stock and Poultry of the County Are Doubled in Year

War time production of food is now being considered of equal importance to the production of guns. Randall county farmers have a real job on hand for 1943 to produce feed grain for livestock. Farmers all over the country will be making various production shifts this year to help meet the food requirements of the United Nations. The Department of Agriculture has announced that incentive payments will be made on certain crops in order to increase production of those most needed. In Randall county the farmers are offered these payments on grain sorghums. The county has been asked to grow 60,000 acres this year. This is about double the acreage grown the past two years. Farmers had cut down on the acreage of this important feed grain because the market for the grain was so low that it could not be grown at a profit with average yields. However, on account of the great increase in hogs and chickens a shortage of feed grain seems likely before the end of the summer. Farmers in Randall county have increased hog and chicken production over 100% during the past year. During the time this increase was under way it was comparatively easy to buy feed grain at a low price. This no longer can be done. The Department of Agriculture and the Food Production Administration is anxious that the increase in meat production be maintained. For this reason every effort is being made to increase the acreage of grain sorghum.

As a part of the program to protect farmers against a low market for feed grain the Commodity Credit Corporation through the AAA has announced holding loans on grain sorghum of about $1.50 per hundred. These loans are handled in the same way loans on wheat have been handled for the past few years.

The County Committee in charge of the Farm Program in Randall county is sending letters to farmers this week asking each farmer to review his grain sorghum acreage assignment and if necessary to revise his request before the county total acreage is submitted to the State office on April 15. In this way the county committee hopes to make the acreage goals on each farm 100% voluntary.

Many farmers in this area will be making a real contribution to the meat supply of the nation, as well as, increasing their own income by growing the feed grains so badly needed this year.

Randall's Quota Is $93,000.00

County-wide Drive Will Be Made ot Sell More Bonds Starting on Next Monday

The Second War Loan Drive will start throughout the nation next Monday morning. Randall county citizens are called upon to buy $93,000 in War Bonds before the end of the month.

A county-wide organization has been set up with R. H. Wright and W. C. Black as co-chairmen for this drive.

The executive committee is composed of the two chairmen, C. H. Jarrett, C. R. Burrow, T. A. Black and G. G. Foster.

Four teams have been organized and the members will call upon all citizens of the county to buy as many bonds as possible during the month. The teams are as follows:

T. A. Black, leader, S. H. Condron, Ray Campbell, W. A. Warren, Ross Craig, G. A. Farlow, Roscoe Davis, W. T. Oliver.

C. R. Burrow leader, D. A. Shirley, F. E. Savage, Miss Hattie M. Anderson, John T. Moody, Bailey McCormick, Calvin Casey, D. S. Hill.

C. H. Jarrett, leader, Dr. Robert P. Jarrett, A. W. Sternenberg, W. J. Wooten, Harvey Cash, Clyde McElroy, Roy N. Byrd, T. V. Reeves.

G. G. Foster, leader, Dr. H. A. Brown, Lee Johnson, Gordon Lyons, Wilson Campbell, A. H. Hunt, C. A. Murray, Hosea Foster.

Publicity committee, Clyde W. Warwick, Chairman; J. B. Speer, Mitchell Jones, speakers; Charles Donnell, Clay Cooper, posters.

Bonds which will be counted on the county's quota of $93,000 are: Series E War Savings Bonds, Series F and G Savings Bonds, Series C Tax Savings Notes, 7-8% Certificate Indebtedness and 2½% Treasury Bonds.

Mr. Wright states that the bonds of those who are making regular monthly purchases will count on this quota. It will be necessary for all to buy as many bonds as possible in order to make the quota.

WAS VETO A SLAP?

Farmers are trying to decide whether or not the veto by the President of the Bankhead bill was a slap at them.

Frankly, The News does not consider this a slap, although we have always stood by the farmers as against all other classes, especially in the favoritism which the administration has shown for the unions as against the farmers.

There is too much politics being displayed by all factions which are pulling strings in Washington trying to procure places of preference for their followers. The farm bloc is playing politics along with the rest of the blocs. We don't blame the farm bloc in the least, but this government by minority blocs is going to bring a tragedy to the nation unless halted.

It may sound like pure heresy for a country newspaper published in an agricultural section to say to farmers that the prices of their products should not be further increased. But the facts are that very few farmers are actually asking for higher prices on their products. The farmers are patriotic enough to realize that their present prices are good, and the only things they need is to be given enough machinery and men to put over the victory program.

Furthermore, we believe that most farmers realize that this bill would be the starting of that vicious circle of inflation which would wreck the economic structure of the nation if allowed to go on.

The President's veto is for the purpose of attempting to stop this circle of inflation. Unfortunately he started too late. He allowed the unions to get away with abnormal wage hikes before trying to put a stop to the rising cost of living. It is true, from the farmer's standpoint, that he is not receiving as large a per cent of increase for his products as the munition workers. But if food prices are increased again, then the demand will be made for further increase of wages of factory workers, because of this increase in the cost of living. The battle of increased food prices and increased wage scale cannot go on forever.

The thing which worries us most is that the fact that there are millions of innocent bystanders who are caught by this ever increasing cost of living and nothing is being done for them. There are several million little business men who are actually being squeezed out of the picture, living on much less than they have ever had before because of the higher cost of doing business, with less to sell; and there are several million salaried people who are paying increased costs of living, with no increase in salary, and no chance to offset the increased cost of living. This battle for higher prices between the farmers and the manufacturers is putting the squeeze on these millions of people, and nothing can be done for them.

Naturally everyone is selfish enough to want "to get theirs" while the getting is good. But prices in all lines must be stabilized or it will take a wheelbarrow load of dollar bills to buy a loaf of bread before this inflation circle is stopped.

CONTROL BUREAUCRACY NOW

Advocates of a socialized bureaucracy invariably introduce their schemes as part of broad, benevolent programs that are hard to criticize because superficially they sound so good. Always they are represented as coming direct from the heart of the masses and are therefore an inexorable demand which it is undemocratic to oppose.

Most of these schemes, as their first objective, seek to destroy private ownership and management of basic industries. Basic industries such as mining, electric power and oil are the bulwark of free enterprise. They are easy to attack for the simple reason that they seem remote from the welfare of the butcher, the baker, and the candlestick maker. Actually if they should fall under domination of boards and bureaus and patronage-loving politicians, the end of individual liberty for all of us will be in sight. A bureaucracy that controls a people's source of jobs, soon lays a heavy hand on personal freedom.

That the people of the United States want no part of alien bureaucracy is abundantly clear. Robert Watt, a labor leader of great prominence in government, has said: "After this war, I want no gigantic governmental Aeconstruction Finance Corporations to finance business and dominate it; and I want no gigantic governmental Works Progress Administration to employ labor and dominate it."

And again, William Green, President of the American Federation of Labor, has warned: "If this country ever gets a system of governmental regimentation, labor will suffer most. Labor, therefore, is deeply interested in the preservation of private business; and labor should everlastingly maintain that the owners and managers of business are entitled to a fair and just return upon their investments."

Americans want to remain free under a regulated capitalistic system, protected by constitutional government. They must not be fooled by the false promises of the get-something-for-nothing philosophers.

Van Stewart of the Ochiltree County Herald would like to see a list of War Bond purchasers of Ochiltree county published. He would like to see the list of those who are not buying bonds, and calls them "War Profiteers." Such a list would be very interesting in every county. It would be revealing to see how many people there are in every county who are making a real sacrifice to come to the aid of their government; and it would likewise be a revelation to see a list of those who are using their money for greater profit than War Bonds pay. We are engaged in a total war, and every citizen must do his part in the total defense of the nation, if we are to win the war. Investing in War Bonds is a mighty small part for any individual to pay. This is not a case of giving anything to anybody, but of simply investing in the future security of the nation.

A naturalized German spoke last week in the Panhandle, predicting that the German people could not stand the bombing which they are receiving. The difference between the bombing of England and Germany is that the English people were forewarned of the terrible ordeal through which they must go. The German people were promised that they would never be bombed. This speaker stated that before the war started every German gave to the government a list of all their relatives in every part of the world. There are 7,000,000 Germans in America. Agents worked on these people, threatening the relatives in Germany when they showed their loyalty to America. This speaker believed that not more than 5% of these German-Americans are loyal to Hitler, and the balance, like himself, are loyal American citizens.

Soldier-students at West Texas State have expressed their appreciation of the fine reception and the cordial treatment which they have received in Canyon. They call it an example of fine Southern hospitality. The people of Canyon appreciate those fine boys who are with us. They are real American citizens set out to wind up this war as quickly as possible. Many of these boys are away from their homes for the first time. They are seeking an opportunity to meet the people of Canyon; and Canyon people will do well to seek the opportunity to meet the boys. The chaps are very anxious to talk with citizens, and to find out more about Canyon and the Panhandle. Let's continue the fine record which we have set in greeting these boys and mixing with them at every opportunity.

As a patriotic obligation, many citizens are raising either a Victory Garden or going into the chicken business. Both are good, if the owners have prepared to do the job. But a lot of folks will jump into either or both without being prepared to do the job. Their results will not be very satisfactory. One thing is sure and certain, chickens must be kept at home this year, as every Victory Garden raiser who spends time and money is determined not to feed the products of his work to a neighbor's chickens.

The 34th Annual Convention of the Panhandle Press Association will meet in Amarillo Friday and Saturday. Naturally all of the News staff which can get away will be at the convention. We will all be back on the job next Monday—we hope!

LOOKS GOOD—Packing houses in Los Angeles used part of their January meat quotas to meet increased holiday demands, when OPA relaxed restrictions. During the coming year, the civilian population will receive 70 per cent of pork, beef and veal production, and 75 per cent of mutton and lamb, according to the Office of War Information. Balance of the meat supply will go to the armed forces.

Missionaries Are Building Home On Jungle's Edge

Mrs. Viola Riefsnyder and her husband, missionaries in Peru, are building a new house at Chosica, near their work with the Indians, this former student has written in a letter to Miss M. Moss Richardson.

There is to be a room on one side of the house for Indian visitors, who are described as "always treated as one of the family." Mrs. Riefsnyder says the climate at her new home is wonderful. The residence will be used when the missionaries are resting between trips into the jungles.

She writes that Billy, Indian boy adopted by the family, is herding sheep on a farm near Tarma. He is reading his Bible to the family with which he lives, and teaching gospel songs. Bobby, first born of the couple, is in school and Ruth, the baby "is growing like a weed and talking both English and Suanih."

Aviation Class Will Continue

CAA Pre-Flight Work Will Be Stressed In Summer Session

Pre-flight training for teachers and others interested in aviation will be offered in the coming Summer Session of West Texas State, according to S. H. Condron, coordinator.

This CAA-sponsored training will prepare men and women to teach pre-flight work in high schools and to take government examinations on ground work. Those who took a similar course last summer found many opportunities to use the information.

Our equipment for teaching the next course will be unusually complete," Dr. Condron said. "In connection with the training of Navy cadets we have purchased much new equipment and instruments which will be used in the pre-flight course."

The class studies will include radio code, navigation, meteorology, civil air regulations, servicing of aircraft, and general aviation. College credit of three semester hours will be given those who complete the 9-week course. There will be no limit on the size of the class.

Ignition key in your pocket—ACID locked in your engine

You can't "pull the cork" to clear out every cylinder after pocketing that key. A chemical mixture always lingers inside. The corner druggist would tell you that the cylinders hold the acid products of combustion . . . the makings of corrosion.

You didn't have all that worry heretofore, when the worst acid was chased out again and again, by repeated driving—and by continued speed that thoroughly heated the engine. Now however, when you're counting every coupon, how long will it be till you next use your car and drive it far enough to make the engine stay real warm? Meanwhile, with acid in your one and only engine, as it stands for long stretches, you'd better take the precaution of having it internally OIL-PLATED by changing to Conoco N*th* motor oil this Spring.

OIL-PLATING is really a close cousin of platings you see every day retarding corrosion. Conoco N*th* oil—at a popular price—includes the costly synthetic that makes OIL-PLATING come between acids and inner engine surfaces. Unlike mere liquid lubricant, ready to drain down to the crankcase promptly, OIL-PLATING tends to stay at its topmost point in your inactive engine, strongly opposing acid attack on inner parts that can't always be replaced these days. The simple key to OIL-PLATING is Conoco N*th* oil for your needed Spring change—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station today. Continental Oil Co.

Soil Management Aid To Increasing Yields

Farmers Co-operating in Test Get Good Results

Larger yields of grain and better stands of hay are becoming increasingly important these days when the demand for cereal, meat and dairy products for war and civilian needs has reached such record peaks. Whether the output of these crops is large or small on a particular farm depends largely on the condition of the soil that produces them, according to Prof. C. J. Chapman of the college of agriculture, University of Wisconsin.

That such crops respond to soil management is evdent from tests carried on in a number of Wisconsin counties in which fertilizers containing phosphorus and potash were applied to small grains and seedings of clover and alfalfa.

Farmers co-operating in the tests laid out demonstration plots on their land, leaving one area unfertilized. The results in the form of grain yields and hay crops that followed them in the rotation were checked and compared. The harvests showed that not only was the output of the small grains boosted, but the production of hay that followed in the rotation was greatly increased. The tests showed, too, that the soil improving treatments had a valuable carry-over benefit.

Typical of the results obtained were tests on farms in Portage county on silt loam and sandy loam soil types of varying fertility levels. On one silt loam plot where 300 pounds of an 0-20-20 fertilizer were applied per acre in 1941, the grain yield was 51.9 bushels compared with 31.1 bushels per acre on the unfertilized field. The 1942 hay crop on the fertilized field was 5,493 pounds, as against 1,186 pounds—or an increase of 4,307 pounds per acre.

A sandy loam plot treated likewise with 300 pounds per acre of an 0-20-20 yielded 25.2 bushels, compared with 19.2 on the untreated plot.

Allen G. Hunsaker of Afton, Wyo., whose four sons are now in the armed forces, installed a milking machine to help out. He is now carrying on with the aid of his wife and 13-year-old daughter. He now milks 20 high grade Holsteins which produce 15,000 pounds of milk per month, in comparison with the 16 cows he milked last year which averaged 10,000 pounds per month.

Eliminate Hazards!

Unless soldiers on the farm front are careful, an army of nearly 4,500 farm workers will be killed this year by mechanized equipment and livestock.

"That's why we say that heroism isn't confined to the front battle lines in this war," farm families were told by E. W. Lehmann, head of the agricultural engineering department, University of Illinois college of agriculture.

The shortage of labor, inexperienced machine operators and use of older machinery will aggravate the situation for the duration.

In Illinois alone, nearly 300 farmers lost their lives in producing and delivering food to market in 1941. Thousands were crippled for life; more thousands were crippled temporarily.

Accidents during wartime are not merely family and community tragedies. Many times they are the result of criminal negligence. Accidents that kill and injure American food-for-freedom producers aid the enemies.

Agricultural Notes

Sudden changes of temperature in dairy barns or in poultry houses reduce production of eggs and milk. Cows and hens do not work overtime to replace shortages from the day before.

Canadian to Talk Here on Post War Problems of World

Mrs. Edith Clysdale Magruder, of Ontario, Canada, will meet and hold conferences with the students of the college on the 13 and 14 of April. A representative of the National Student Council, Mrs. Magruder will discuss such topics as, "After the War—What?" and "Social Forces at Work in the Nation."

Born in Ontario, the lecturer has spent many years in the United States. Mrs. Magruder has taken degrees at the University of Toronto and Union Theological Seminary and Teachers College, New York City. Her latest pamphlet, "Basic Issues of War and Peace" is being used as part of a national program for gaining perspective suitable to the era.

During the course of her visit to the campus, Mrs. Magruder will hold several conferences with students; she will also speak at the regular meeting of the Student Christian Association.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

The Legislative Grapevine

By GRADY HAZLEWOOD
Senator 31st District

Many members of the Senate will long remember the filibuster which began last Monday at about 2:30 p. m. and continued until 4:22 a. m. the following morning. At least, the writer will never forget it. The bill under consideration was referred to by newspapers as a Loan Shark Bill. The entire substance of the bill may be stated in one sentence—it permits the attorney general or any prosecuting attorney to file an injunction suit against anyone charging in excess of the lawful rate of interest. There is nothing more to the bill. Small town banks all over Texas that make service charges of $1.00 along with a loan bearing 10% interests could be subject to injunction suits.

Several members of the Senate are in the army, and because members are frequently called outside the Senate Chamber by out of town constituents it is sometimes difficult to maintain the necessary quorum. When the bill was brought up, Senator Jesse Martin of Fort Worth sent up an amendment which he said would more rigidly control the real loan sharks. About that time a roll call was had on the amendment and it developed there was no quorum. A call of the Senate was made, seconded, and passed, which, in technical terms, placed "a call on the Senate." The lawful procedure then was for the Sergeant at Arms to immediately summon a sufficient number of the members of the Senate to constitute a quorum and lock all doors and exits. No member was permitted to leave the Senate for any purpose—not even to eat. Senator Martin was compelled to remain in one standing position until he finished. He was not permitted to go to a wash room or get a drink of water outside. Had he sat down or left his position on the floor for any purpose at any time, he would have lost the floor and the right to speak. Thus he stood in one position for almost fourteen continuous hours. Occasionally some member would raise a point of order that he was leaning on his desk and immediately he would straighten up. During the time fifty-four different motions to adjourn were made and voted down. Incidentally, motions to adjourn cannot be made one after the other—a reasonable length of time must elapse between motions.

Senators had to depend upon their wives and friends to smuggle in sandwiches, malted milks and coca colas. Some went to sleep at their desks and had to be aroused whenever a roll call was made. One member laid down on the floor. Now, to those of you who have read about filibusters, this is the way they actually work under parliamentary rules and procedure, and the writer of this article sincerely hopes he will never be compelled to endure another ordeal like that. It will be so long remembered by the present members it is doubtful if any member can ever again muster enough promises from the membership to prevent adjournment. It certainly accomplished nothing.

The writer happened to be in the House of Representatives when the resolution was introduced inviting Senator O'Daniel to speak. Pandemonium broke loose and there was a deafening chorus of noes and boos. But when the vote came and the membership started placing their names on record there was an overwhelming vote inviting the Senator to speak before a joint session.

Beats Henry J. Kaiser's Record

The above likeness of M. C. Sanders shows this rugged individualist when he was out to kill jackrabbits with his trusted bow and arrow. Mote is the well-known William Tell of the Panhandle. While he never tried shooting an apple off the head of his son, no one doubts that he could.

But his latest accomplishment is to build a boat in better time than Henry J. Kaiser. Mote has set a record of building a boat in 38 man-hours. His boat may not be of the same sea-going capacity as the victory Ships turned out by the Kaiser organization, but after all a boat is a boat, even if the 48-man-hour type of Mote's is of the canoe variety sea worthy of Buffalo Lake.

MRS. BREITLING SICK

Training Detachment Program Expanding

Schedule of Social Events Arranged for Officers and Men

Another unit of men arrived Sunday to join the first group of soldier-students who have been at West Texas State College for two weeks.

Barracks were made for the additional men by transforming some of the buildings on the campus. The men of the first unit had been well housed in Buffalo Courts and Terrill Hall before the coming of the second unit. A large force of carpenters rapidly transformed the other buildings into living quarters for the new group.

Organization of the Army Air Forces college training detachment here continued at a rapid pace last week, when class instruction began in five academic subjects and a social program was inaugurated.

Subjects and instructors are:

English—Dr. B. F. Fronabarger, Dr. A. Kirk Knott.

Geography—Miss Darthula Walker.

Physics—Prof. T. B. McCarter, Prof. J. Lee Gilmore, Prof. James O. Lowe, Prof. J. W. Reid, Mrs. T. B. McCarter, laboratory director.

Mathematics—Prof. C. A. Murray, Miss Edna Graham, Prof. Cecil Briggs.

History—Dr. L. F. Sheffy, Dr. Ima C. Barlow.

Halls of West Texas State have resounded to the precise footfalls of the trainees, who report to classes in flights of forty men.

The detachment is taking over the College Infirmary as its hospital, and students who become ill will be attended in their homes, and dormitories during the rest of this semester, according to Miss Hellen Hickman, college nurse.

Priorities Granted

Meanwhile, Business Manager Virgil Henson, President J. A. Hill, and other college authorities have been expanding campus facilities for housing the expanding military unit. Priorities have been obtained for most materials. Within a short time, it is believed, the new Science Building will be occupied by Captain D. L. Echols, commandant, and his staff.

Two acute needs of the Army Air Forces college training detachment here are coat hangers and ash trays. Persons willing to contribute these two items may leave them at the office of Dr. D. A. Shirley, registrar, or citizens may have someone call for the two items if desired. The detachment business telephone is 432.

Informal entertainment for officers and men of the military detachment is being provided by the College under the supervision of Mrs. Geraldine Green , dean of women. The program, worked out with First Lieutenant Milton E. Wray, included a dance at Cousins Hall and a social at the Baptist Church Saturday evening; open houses Sunday at Cousins Hall, Randall Hall, Cactus Lodge, Mesquite Lodge, Little House of Fellowship, and the Methodist Church; and Sunday dinners by invitation from the Christian Church for members of this denomination.

The College Library was kept open from 2 to 5:30 p. m. with the regular staff in charge. At Cousins Hall, musical records were played by Miss Edna Graham and motion pictures were shown by Miss Florence McMurtry. In the receiving line were President and Mrs. J. A. Hill, Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Meyer, and Miss Ruth Cross.

Dr. Meyer is college coordinator for the instructional program of the military detachment.

Rotary Club Holds Election Officers For Coming Year

At the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club Tuesday, officers were elected for the new year starting July 1.

Officers chosen were:

Lee L. Johnson, president.

Allen Farlow, vice-president.

Boone McClure, secretary.

Directors: Stuart Condron, Guy Harp, Lester Sheffy, J. W. Shook.

Lee Johnson is now serving out the unexpired term of Marion Bishir, who volunteered last fall for the army.

Visitors at the meetings were: John E. Hill of Amarillo; Capt. D. L. Echols, commanding officer of the Army Air Forces College Training Detachment, and Jess Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Bandy and daughter of Wichita Falls were here Monday. He is on the instructional staff at Sheppard Field and came here to advise in the new work being given at West Texas State.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Thurman, and family, were transferred here recently from Littlefield, by the West Texas Gas Company. Mr. Thurman is chief operator of the Booster Plant here. He assumed his new duties March 15.

Mrs. W. C. Myers of Lubbock, visited last week with Mrs. W. S. Myers.

Garden Leaves

MRS. J. A. HILL
President Canyon Garden Club

Yum! Yum! Don't you just love strawberries? And what is more beautiful than a luscious ripe berry in a nest of dark green leaves with perhaps a few snowy blossoms near by?

A local nurseryman says that this is the month to plant strawberries. Have a spaded bed ready with some sand and fertilizer well mixed. Give the plants plenty of room in which to ramble, set them about a foot apart each way with the bud just even with the ground. Do not smother the bud by covering it with soil.

Some think it wise to mulch the bed, later, with a thin layer of clean straw to protect the plants from the hot sun and winds, to hold the moisture and to keep the berries clean.

Surely spring is here. The lilacs and tulips are budding and the baby iris is in bloom. A few red buds and forsythias survived the freeze.

If you have something blooming in your yard tell your neighbors about it. Neighborliness is quite the style these days. Let's share all the beauty and joy we can with each other. "Give to the world the best that you have and the best will come back to you."

We may need all our extra energy and patience and optimism to meet and overcome the adverse weather conditions this year, but we can have a measure of success if we work at our jobs. A garden of any kind needs eternal vigilance. It must not be too dry nor too wet. Insects wage a never ending war. Chickens can scratch up in an hour all we have planted in a day. Remember, cooperation must be the watchword if Victory crowns our efforts. We must have food.

Freshmen Are Finally Losers

Price Brookfield and Ray Ellefson Help War Workers Win

The now famous West Texas State College Freshman team suffered its first defeat of the 1942-43 season in Dumas last Thursday night when it bowed to the Cactus Ordnance team, 59 to 51. It took All-American Price Brookfield, former WTSC star, to turn the trick.

The great Brookfield, who recently joined the Cactus team, swished the nets for 25 points, made on 11 field goals and three free throws. Another former Buffalo star, elongated Ray Ellefson, ably assisted Brookfield by bagging 18 points. Nelson was third with 10 points.

Most of Brookfield's shots came at crucial points in the game, when points were needed to put his team in front.

Boyce Box, one of the freshmen twins, led the college team with 15 points. Norman Trimble, James Crews, and Chat Johnson, all of the WTSC varsity team, aided the freshman team because of illness and injury to some of its members.

The Cactus five led at half time 32 to 28.

"America's Food Crisis" March of Time Coming Soon

Shall we get enough to eat if the war continues? What has happened to our food supply? Will rationing continue after the war? These and other questions Americans are asking are answered in this month's March of Time, "America's Food Crisis," at the Olympic Theatre, Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday.

Besides scenes showing where our food has gone and is going, the film tells why lend-lease shipments have not seriously cut our food supply, reveals some startling facts about the food "shortage," and discusses the question: "Can food win the war and write the peace?"

Britain's experience with food rationing is shown, and the farmer's dilemma is discussed by ex-President Hoover and novelist Louis Bromfield. Finally, the film reveals the part food will play in any post-war program.

New facts and exclusive pictures make this the timeliest March of Time in years.

Cpl. Joe Tucek of Brownwood, was home on a ten day furlough visiting his mother, Mrs. Lena Tucek and family.

Mrs. Mary Burtz has returned from McAdoo where she has been with her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Fewell, for more than three months.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

And if our lines should sag and break
Because of things you fail to make;
That extra tank, that ship, that plane
For which we waited all in vain,
Will you then come to take the blame?
For we, not you, must pay the cost
Of battles you, not we, have lost.

Prof. Moore Is One of Five Men Voted High Honor

T. M. Moore, professor of agriculture now doing graduate work at Iowa State College, Ames, has been elected to membership in Gamma Sigma Delta, national agriculture honorary fraternity. He is one of five graduate students given this honor, which is based on scholastic attainments.

Mrs. Moore has been active in the Faculty Women's Club and has taken a course in Spanish. T. M., Jr., was business manager of the junior class play in the high school he attends.

Letters from the Moores tell of a long, severe winter and the pleasure derived from signs of spring. Enrollment at the college has dropped to 3,661 students. More than 400 students were graduated at the end of the fall semester.

S/C Petty Officer M. A. Hardman, arrived here Friday to spent a 30-day furlough, while recovering from his recent operation.

The College Dames will meet April 9th at the Little House of Fellowship, at 3 o'clock.

Sgt. R. E. Prichard, of Greensville, is home on a 15-day furlough for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Prichard.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Johnson will leave this week for California where they will visit for several weeks with their daughter.

HAVING ANY FUN?

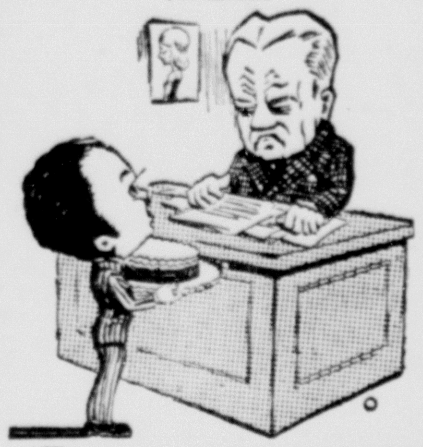
A man called on the news editor of a local paper and announced that his uncle had been taking the paper for 55 years.

"That's fine," said the news editor. "I hope he'll continue to do so."

"Oh, yes, he will. I want to tell you about him. He has always been a model of propriety. He has never touched liquor or tobacco. He has never used profanity. He has never been mixed up with women. He indulges in no vices and no excesses. And tomorrow he will celebrate his eightieth birthday."

"How?" asked the news editor.

HAD EXPERIENCE



"We want a diplomatic, tactful, smart office boy."

"Well, I used to send sister's beau away when she didn't want to see him."

Salute for Three

One army gunnery school rookie has his own ideas on military courtesy.

He was stumped for a moment when three officers approached him recently. One you can salute. But three?

The private raised his right hand in a brisk salute. His left hand he raised with three fingers stretched upward.

Domestic Trouble

Briggs—I just set a trap for my wife.

Jiggs—Gracious! What do you suspect?

Briggs—A mouse in the pantry!

At the Movies

Lady (to man sitting behind)—Shall I remove my hat?

Man—Heck, no, lady! It's funnier than anything I've seen on the screen yet!

Resigned to Her Fate

Boy—Can I help you with your home work, Nancy?

Nancy—Oh, that's all right. I might as well get it wrong all by myself!

Partners

Mrs.—How can you talk to me like that after I've given you the best years of my life?

Mr.—Yeah? And who made them the best years of your life?

For Good Reason

Corporal Hay Foot—Did you know that lots of girls are wearing wooden shoes nowadays?

Girl Friend—If they're dancing with the army, I think I see why.

Happy Bygone Days

Bill—My great uncle was a famous Western politician.

Jerry—What did he run for?

Bill—The border!

Big Hearted Gift

Neighbor—Will you donate something to the Old Ladies' Home?

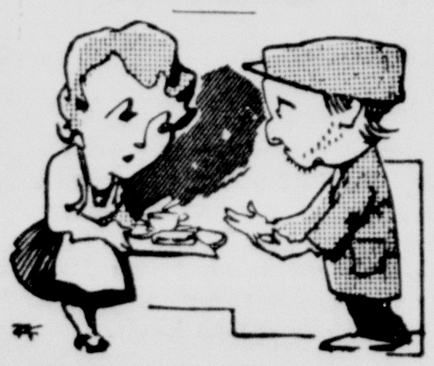
Mr. Phwaff—Sure, take my mother-in-law!

As Good as Any

Judge—But why did you shoot your sweetheart in a night club?

Pretty Defendant—Well, Judge, I like night clubs.

AREN'T WE ALL?



"Poor man, so you've been suffering from an incurable complaint? Dear me! What is it?"

"Spring fever, mum."

Fun in the Army

Sarge—This is the seventh day this week you've had to do kitchen police. Have you anything to say for yourself?

Private—Yeh, I'm glad it's the last day of the week!

Embarrassing Moment

Mary—While I was at that part, a girl fell off her chair, and everyone laughed but me.

Harry—Why didn't you laugh?

Mary—Because I was the girl that fell!

The 2nd War Loan Starts April 12

13 billion dollars must be raised!

THE GOVERNMENT of the United States is asking us to lend it 13 billion dollars in the next few weeks. We can do it. And we must do it. Every American must realize the truth:

In this, our toughest war, we've made a good start. We've trained a lot of men—made a lot of weapons—built a lot of ships.

But it's only a start. No man or woman among us would contend for a single instant that we're doing enough now to win this war!

We've Got to Build More!

We broke all records building 8 million tons of shipping last year. But grim-faced Army and Navy men will tell you that the 18 MILLION tons we're building this year still won't be enough!

We've Got to Fight More!

From now till this war is won, America must be on the offensive. In ever-increasing numbers, your sons, brothers, husbands must go into actual battle. Our losses have already begun to mount—and they will not grow less.

And We've Got to Buy More War Bonds!

Sure we're all buying War Bonds now. But we've got to help pay for our increased fighting and building . . . We've got to match, as best we can, the sacrifice of those Americans who are toiling and sweating on a dozen battle-fronts—with the bloodiest yet to come. The blunt fact is this: to keep our war machine going, we've got to dig up 13 billion extra dollars this month. 13 billion dollars over and above our regular War Bond buying!

In the next few weeks you may be visited by one of the thousands of volunteers who are contributing their time and effort to this Drive. But don't wait for him. Make up your mind now that before this drive is over, you're going to march right down to your nearest bank, Post Office, or place where they sell War Bonds, and do your duty. And don't ever forget this: in doing your duty, you're doing yourself one of the biggest favors of your life!

For United States War Bonds are the greatest investment in the world—bar none. They're investments tailored to fit your particular situation. And they give you the chance of a lifetime to order and get the kind of world you want to live in after this war. Every cent you put in War Bonds now will help to guarantee plenty of peacetime jobs making peace-living for every one of us.

For your Country's sake—for your own sake—invest all you can!

There Are 7 Different Types of U. S. Government Securities—Choose The Ones Best Suited For You:

United States War Savings Bonds—Series E: The perfect investment for individual and family savings. Gives you back $4 for every $3 when the Bond matures. Designed especially for the smaller investor. Dated 1st day of month in which payment is received. Interest: 2.9% a year if held to maturity. Denominations: $25, $50, $100, $500, $1000. Redemption: any time 60 days after issue date. Price: 75% of maturity value.

2½% Treasury Bonds of 1964-1969: Readily marketable, acceptable as bank collateral, these Bonds are ideal investments for trust funds, estates and individuals. A special feature provides that they may be redeemed at par and accrued interest for the purpose of satisfying Federal estate taxes. Dated April 15, 1943; due June 15, 1969. Denominations: $500, $1000, $5000, $10,000, $100,000—also $1,000,000 if registered. Redemption: Not callable till June 15, 1964; thereafter at par and accrued interest on any interest date at 4 months' notice. Subject to Federal taxes only. Price: par and accrued interest.

Other Securities: Series "C" Tax Notes; ⅞% Certificates of Indebtedness; 2% Treasury Bonds of 1950-1952; United States Savings Bonds Series "F"; United States Savings Bonds Series "G."

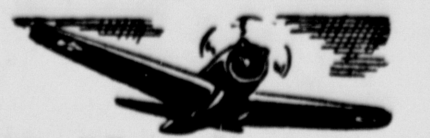
Canyon Air News



Hello—Folks:

A few news items this past week is about all we have, in that the ever-present wind has kept everyone close to the ground, and during a hard blow—covered with it.

Gerald M. Gunter, has returned from Hot Springs, Ark., bringing with him his bride; and has weathered the usual "fun" very nicely.

T. Clarence Merritt's wife is planning on returning to Wichita, Kans., having spent a week here. William Harrison has left for a week's vacation at home.

G. W. Cox and Kenneth G. Fincher, our chief flight instructor, have become sort of jacks-of-all-trades. When the weather is right for flying, they check-ride the students. When grounded, you can usually find them at most anything,—building parachute lockers, grading the field, making plans and working on the new hangar, supervising checking over of ships.

We are looking forward to being even busier as the program continues. By the latter part of this month, our student body will be enlarged to 80—from the present number—27. Our cadets have really been quite disappointed about the weather. They are all anxious to work on their flights, and when they find the red flag up, their chins droop more than a little.

Our instructor's group is gradually being augmented, beginning with Sherman E. Attaway, of Amarillo, who joined us on April 1st. We expect a few more instructors who come from close by, too, very shortly, to begin with the new program.

Will report to you again next week, so until then—if there are any old-timers familiar with old-Indian folk-lore, will one of you please show us what magic trick they used to bring calm weather?

The Gang in the Pilot House.

Your Part in the Meat and Fats Rationing Program

AS A CONSUMER

★★ OFFICIAL OPA INFORMATION

Beginning March 29 these foods will be rationed: fresh, frozen, cured, smoked and canned beef, veal, pork, lamb, mutton and all meat products derived from them including all variety meats such as liver, heart, kidney, brains, sweetbreads and all sausage. All canned fish, in glass or tin. All cheese and its derivatives except cheeses such as cottage, cream, bleu, and liederkranz. All butter, lard, margarine, shortening, salad and cooking oils, except mayonnaise and salad dressings.

HERE'S HOW YOU SHOP WITH RED STAMPS to get meat... cheese... butter shortening... and other foods rationed under this program

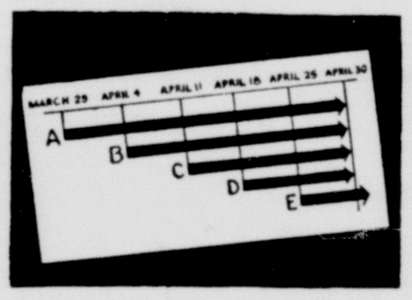
These foods are also rationed by the "point" system. They may be obtained only with the red stamps in War Ration Book Two. You may use the red stamps from all War Ration Books Two issued to your household.



"A" stamps become valid March 29, and a new row of stamps becomes good each week on Sunday. "B" the second week, "C" the third, and so on. Stamps A, B, C and D will expire April 30.

The official point value chart — posted in stores and published in newspapers — will give point values per pound for all these foods. A point value table in ounces is included in this chart.

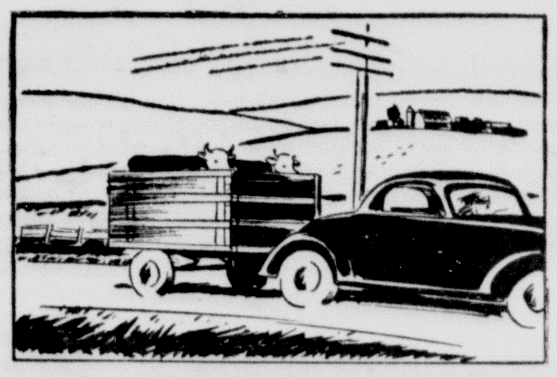
These foods will be given specific point values per pound by the Government. You may obtain any of them with any valid red stamps of the right value. Dealers can give "change" in 1 point red stamps only.

AS A FARMER OR PRODUCER

The farmer's position in the Red Stamp rationing program is unique. In all cases, he is a consumer, but he may also be a slaughterer, a wholesaler and a retailer. Each classification and activity is governed by special regulations. You will be expected to know what these regulations are so read carefully the information given below.

FARMERS WHO SLAUGHTER their own livestock for their own consumption, or for storage at home or elsewhere (to be eventually consumed by their own family), do not have to surrender ration stamps. Farmers who purchase rationed foods must give up stamps, just as any other consumer.



FARMERS WHO SELL or barter meat they have slaughtered must first obtain a slaughter permit from their County Agricultural War Board. Permit numbers must appear on all wholesale cuts of meat sold or bartered.

YOU MUST COLLECT STAMPS for all rationed foods sold or bartered. These stamps must be turned in to the local Ration Board with an official report form either by mail or in person.

POINT VALUE CHARTS for both wholesale and retail sales as well as the necessary report forms may be obtained from County Agricultural War Boards. Do not hesitate to call upon your Ration Board or local OPA office for any additional information.

Regional Meet Will Be Held

No District Preliminaries Scheduled to Precede Events Here April 24

The Interscholastic League regional meet will be held here on April 24. Although there will be no district eliminations, the meeting is expected to be about as large as usual, judging from the number of entries which have been sent to the state headquarters.

Prof. F. E. Savage, who has served as director general for many years, will be succeeded this year by Boone McClure. Because of gasoline and tire rationing and consequent difficulties of travel, other directors are being chosen from the W. T. S. C. faculty. A list of the division directors follows:

Dr. Seth Fessenden, debate.

Dr. B. F. Fronabarger, declamations.

Prof. W. L. Vaughan, extemporaneous speaking.

Miss Helen White Moore, ready writing.

Coach W. W. Nicklaus, athletics.

Miss Ruth Stapleton, one-act plays.

Dr. Lee Johnson, typing and shorthand.

W. T. High Play Will Be Given on April 16

The time: June.

The scene: The living room of a doctor's home.

The atmosphere: A home full of brightness, humor, and affection, which never degenerates into sentimentality.

These are the clues of the production of the West Texas High School Senior Class, "June Mad," which will be presented April 16 in the Education Auditorium, at 8:30 p. m.

The story of the play involves the romantic illusions of a teen-age girl toward a college fellow who knows all the answers and has information about the escapades of a young high school boy who finds satisfaction to his spirit of adventure in his home-made glider.

The cast includes: Mary Hodges, as a young lady who is suddenly awakened to the ecstasies of love and hero-worship; Tom Knighton, a young adventurer; Waldene Dorris, the charming mother of Mary; Ross Gidden, part of the hired help, but almost part of the family; James White, the distracted father of adolescent children; Dorothy Kephart, lovable hired girl; Beatrice Clark, an unconscious pest; C. M. Campbell, the local boy who has returned from a year of college; Jed Miller, the object of an adolescence affection; Garland Burgess, a severe father; Norma Davis and Marvin May are friends of the family; Shirley Byars, a very pretty young girl who has a "line."

This is the second of a series of three plays being introduced in W. T. High School as a class project of the Speech Class 412. The first production was "New Fires," presented by the Junior Class. The final play will be an experimental one, which has never been produced before. W. T. has been selected by its publishers as one of the schools in which to have the play tried.

Canyon Garden Club Met Wednesday

The Canyon Garden Club met in the Thompson club room, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Spencer P. Whippo spoke on High Plains Soil. The high plains soils need careful study and analysis before planting, he said. Since soils require different attention, one should study the soil as to the amount of moisture, fertilizer and depth of planting, to be used. Mr. Whippo stated that most soils in this vicinity were alkaline, and they required manure for fertilizer. His discussion on soil was interesting and helpful.

The new officers were in charge of the meeting. They were Mrs. J. A. Hill, president; Mrs. A. L. Tarlton, Secretary; and Mrs. J. W. Shook, treasurer.

The next meetings will start at 9:30, beginning with the next meeting, the first Wednesday in May. Everyone who is interested in Victory Gardens is cordially invited to attend. Helpful programs are being planned for the year.

"People should marry their opposites."

"Most people are convinced they did."

Textile Exhibit Is on Display on Second Floor

Interesting hand-woven materials, the work of students in the creative hobbies class of the Department of Art, are being displayed on the second floor of the Administration Building.

The exhibits were hand woven on small Teedee looms, hand-made box looms, a four-harness loom, and a treadle-operated floor loom under the direction of Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the department.

Among the exhibitors are Marguerite Hudnall, Lois Marie Baker, Ann Killham, Myriel McClendon, Icaphene Stephens, Mary Margaret Townsend, and Mae Simmons.

An exhibit of textile designs, the work of a class taught by Miss Louise Manigault, will be placed soon.

Prof. James Lowe Comes to Campus To Head Physics

James O. Lowe, a former roommate of Prof. T. B. McCarter at the University of Texas, has been employed to teach physics to trainees of the Air Corps military detachment.

After leaving the University of Texas, Prof. Lowe did work for the M. S. degree at Texas & M. College. He came here from Henderson, Texas. Mrs. Lowe and their two children are expected to move to Canyon soon.

.65 Inch of Rain Is Received Last Nite

First Rain of 1943 and the First Moisture Since December To Save Wheat

Rain last night amounted to .65 of an inch in Canyon. According to reports, the rain was general over the Panhandle and will be of great assistance to the wheat.

This is the first rain in 1943 for this section, and the first moisture received since December 21—three and one-half months.

Reports on the condition of wheat over the county have greatly varied. Some farmers report that they lost much wheat due to the continued dry weather and the large number of green bugs. The bugs have no doubt done considerable damage but the consensus of opinion is that the drouth affected the wheat to a greater degree.

If this rain is followed by warm weather, wheat growers are optimistic that the crop will do much better than has been expected during the past month.

Farm work of all kinds will get underway with the coming of this moisture. A considerable acreage of oats and barley was lost by the dry weather, but the drive to increase the row crop acreage will no doubt be met by the farmers now that the ground is wet.

32 Men Called From Randall For May 26

Randall county has been called upon to furnish 32 men under Selective Service on May 26. The men called will go to Lubbock for their physical examinations on the afternoon of May 25.

This call will wipe out all available single men in the county, and if the call is met it is very likely that some married men will be included in this call. The large number of single boys who have been deferred on account of farming will make it necessary to induct married men to fill the military calls.

Plans Made to Care for People

Fishing, Boating, and Picnic Grounds Open to People of This Section

Buffalo Lake, "Playground of the Southwest" will officially open May 1, Mrs. Jim Golding, concessionaire, has announced.

The early opening this year is to conform with Texas laws governing fishing as the Government project, for the first time, will be under state regulations regarding fishing dates and limits of catch.

In addition to the many free attractions being offered to the public on the 1943 War-time menu program and of military nature, Mrs. Golding has said prizes would be awarded the Waltonians catching the largest bass, perch, crappie and catfish on opening day. There will also be a gala dance in the Recreational building the night of May 1 to climax the opening program. Floor show acts have been booked for the evening, the concessionaire said.

Advance reservations for fishing boats, cabins and miscellaneous fishing equipment indicates a record crowd for the outdoor celebration. Realizing many motorists will be curtailed in distant vacations and the probability opening day will constitute the sole vacation for many Panhandle enthusiasts, the lake management is going all-out to make the day an entertaining one.

Regent John E. Hill Ends 13-Year Service

Amarillo Man Given Praise

Campus and Policies Of West Texas State Show Much Progress

JOHN E. HILL

Last week brought the retirement of John E. Hill of Amarillo, president of the Board of Regents, whose term expired. Mr. Hill had served longer than any other member—a total of 13 years.

His last duties included the leading of the procession at the inauguration of Dr. John G. Flowers as president of Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos. This was a splendid occasion, with 166 persons in the academic procession and 49 colleges and societies represented. Two hundred soldiers participated in a memorial service and flag-raising.

Regent Hill was praised for his long and brilliant service by Dr. C. E. Evans, retiring president, and Dr. Flowers.

Mr. Hill's work as West Texas State's own representative was highly significant. A builder and financier, lumberman, and civic leader, he gave freely of his time and talents in promoting the interests of the college. His name is indelibly linked with the institution's building program, its 10-year plan, its curriculum revision and administrative reorganization and its war effort. In all of these activities, Regent Hill was a dynamic figure. Frequently he represented the college in trips to Austin, Washington, D. C., and other cities. He worked for better appropriations in the legislature. He saw the campus take on its present motif of native stone. He worked for the government grants, the museum grants, and the new Science Building. Without his constant attention, the Science Building probably would not now be a reality.

Influential in Washington

For six years prior to his retirement, Mr. Hill was in charge of negotiations with the federal government concerning grants and, more recently, of proposed army training units. Last winter he convened the state college presidents and with them worked out exhaustive studies of the institutions' capacity for training military personnel. These reports and proposals, carried to Washington, D. C., expedited and implemented the establishment of training programs in the various institutions.

Although the physical plant of West Texas State has been almost doubled in the last decade, the cost to the state has been small. Attendance, too, was doubled.

"This progress has been due to the untiring efforts of Dr. J. A. Hill, president, and the cooperation of the people of the Panhandle and the government agencies," Regent Hill said. "The State appropriated funds for the Science Building, which has been nearly completed in the face of almost insurmountable obstacles. It is thought the few remaining critical materials will be available now, that the Army Air Forces are sending personnel to the college.

Federal Agencies Help

He pointed out that WPA, NYA, student laborers, and PWA grants made possible the extensive building program.

He urged the construction of a library building at West Texas State, labeling it a "must."

"The great opportunity before the people of the Panhandle is to secure funds for a library building," he added. "This project has been approved by the Board of Regents. The Panhandle is the only section of the state without adequate library facilities furnished by the State."

Continuing, he said:

Library Need Told

"It is fine that influential residents of the Panhandle can send their children to distant colleges and universities, but the great majority of Panhandle citizens who want to send their children to the Panhandle institution with its wonderful Christian and democratic atmosphere and traditions are entitled to all the help possible in securing a library for West Texas State equal to any in the Southwest. The college has a wonderful collection of books and is a federal depository of public documents, but facilities for their use are small. Quarters are cramped and a building is badly needed."

The regent also recommended construction of a home for President J. A. Hill, who is the only state college president for whom a home is not furnished. He also called attention to the need for a student union building and another structure for arts and industries. He suggested that the institution ultimately should have its own board of regents.

Regent Hill is being succeeded by Newton Harrell of Claude, prominent rancher and banker, and a former student of West Texas State.

Meant Just That

Synthetic rubber has been a fascinating subject ever since a few years before the last war when valuable work was done on the constitution and synthesis of natural rubber. In those early years of the present century the term "synthetic rubber" meant just that—namely, the product formed by the actual synthesis of the rubber hydrocarbon which is the chief constituent of natural rubber.

Why pay thousands of civilians to audit ALL Army, Navy and Maritime Commission war contracts when the profits of 95% do not exceed a fair 2% after taxes—and when the Internal Revenue department automatically sifts out the excess-profit contracts while computing income taxes?

Only 5% of war profits are found to be over 2% after taxes. These are the ones to examine — and Uncle Sam already has people to detect violations without hiring an army of extra employes to audit ALL contracts.

CRISIS IN MANPOWER

Today's problem of manpower means as much to the farmer with one hired hand, or the merchant with a single clerk, as it does to the industrialist who employs a thousand persons. It is all a matter of proportion.

The war program has reached such a stupendous size that the proper distribution of manpower assumes as much importance as the right use of steel, oil, rubber, or any other essential material or product.

It has been such a short time since there was more manpower than industry and agriculture could absorb that we may be a bit slow in waking up to the fact that today each man and woman who can be used to help in the battle of production is needed, and needed badly.

For the benefit, then, of farmers whose crops and livestock will suffer this year if manpower is not replenished; for the benefit of the armed services which have set their sights at possibly 10 million in uniform before 1944; for the benefit of the factories which must turn out ammunition, shoes, clothing, supplies and processed foods in ever-increasing quantities for fighters, civilians and allied nations, a careful stock-taking of manpower is required.

Where Manpower Is Wasted

Our new Congress must make sure that those in charge of this task, in Washington, cast about to see where able-bodied people are being needlessly employed. And in that city of Washington these authorities are now rubbing elbows with thousands of clerks, auditors, stenographers and others who could be used elsewhere without interfering with the war effort in any measure.

Recent figures showed that there were 2,606,300 persons on the civilian payroll of the federal government. This is not only a million more than were in our armed forces in foreign lands at the time the President made his address at the opening of the present Congress, but it is three times as many as were on the government's civilian payroll during the first World War. Of course this is a bigger war, but that only furnishes an even greater reason why the government should lead in conserving manpower for our farms and factories.

The "Renegotiation" Law

A single measure, introduced in Congress last year, would require thousands of new payrollers to carry out its provisions. This was the act providing that the Army, Navy and Maritime commission should each check its war contracts so that renegotiation could be demanded in cases of excessive charges.

The purpose of this legislation—to make sure that the government was not paying too much for its materials and supplies—was not questioned. But the proposed method of rechecking all war contracts called for the hiring of such a large number of new federal employees that amendments to the bill were quickly demanded.

Although the bill has been rewritten and amended, it still places upon the Army, Navy and Maritime commission so much of the responsibility for re-examining their contracts that thousands of new auditors and accountants would be needed. This violates the principle that united war effort calls for the placing of every available man and woman in productive work, at the same time helping to keep the taxpayers' federal load as light as possible, consistent with wartime demands.

An acceptable amendment to this law—not yet adopted—would leave it to the Department of Internal Revenue to uncover instances of excess profit. By using this established checking system, the other departments would not have to hire extra people to wade through the 95 per cent or more of war contracts which are honestly and conscientiously executed.

Here is but one example of how manpower can be conserved in these days when the efforts of all must be directed toward winning the war.

NEED FOR UNITED EFFORT

To win this war we must have unity of effort. "The do-as-I-tell-you-not-as-I-do" attitude will never mobilize national power or bring speedy victory.

This need for united effort was emphasized by the President in his recent call for a 40 per cent reduction in the use of government automobiles. Take the use of tires and gasoline by various federal agencies. A report of the Joint Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Federal Expenditures says:

"Despite the growing automobile crisis, both in tires and gasoline, the investigation of the committee indicates that for the first four months of the present fiscal year the various agencies of the government, exclusive of the Army and Navy, continued for the most part to use as many passenger cars, to drive as many miles, and to consume about as much gasoline as did these agencies in a comparable period of the previous year, notwithstanding the efforts of the government to reduce the consumption of gasoline and conserve rubber.

Same Standard for All

"The committee believes that the same standard of strictly essential driving should be applicable to government employees as now applies to individual citizens."

The committee gives figures upon which its conclusions are based. In the last fiscal year the government owned 17,305 passenger automobiles, exclusive of the Army and Navy and exclusive of trucks and motorcycles. It now owns 18,953 passenger automobiles.

In the last fiscal year the cost of operating these automobiles was $4,243,602. According to the use of the first four months of the present year the cost will be $3,924,069. In the last fiscal year these government-owned cars traveled 203,550,280 miles. According to the first four months of this year, government-owned cars will travel, this fiscal year, 199,830,930 miles and consume 12,853,533 gallons of gasoline.

The report also quotes from a statement of the Director of the Budget, indicating that "until now government cars have had an average of six and one-half tires each." The Committee's finding "that the same standard of strictly essential driving" should apply to government employees as is applied to individual citizens is too downright sensible to require discussion.

Why More Payrollers?

Another example of the need for united effort is found in the problem before Congress as to whether excessive profits on war contracts require new bureaus and additional payrollers or whether the Department of Internal Revenue can do the job.

The average citizen struggling with high taxes and a shortage of manpower answers: If necessary, amend the Internal Revenue Act for this purpose.

To win the war we must spend money and use materials wisely. We have enough manpower to do our essential jobs, but we have neither the manpower nor the taxes to hire special payrollers to do work that can be done better by established agencies.

AMERICA

These words from a recent advertisement are worth reading twice: "A drum, a little red wagon, a picture book; these are gifts that bring joy to a boy's heart. But you can give him a far greater gift. You can give him the right to live as a free American.

Free Enterprise

It took Germany nine years to build enough plants and equipment to fight this war; it took Japan 25 years, Russia 20 years. American industry, under free enterprise, has done it in two years.

"Renegotiation" Might Touch You

Under no other circumstances is the fine spirit of neighborly cooperation shown to better advantage in a rural community than in the case of fire or other calamity. This friendly spirit is not based upon personal interest, but upon the deep sympathy that just naturally arises in case of disaster. Of course, there is a personal interest if the fire threatens our own property, but we like to think this unity of spirit in our rural life is typical of America.

There is this same community of interest between industry, labor and agriculture, although sympathy for each other's troubles seldom comes to the surface.

Every farmer knows that his best market for the produce of his farm is our local domestic market. He depends upon this domestic market to consume over 90 per cent of what our American farms produce each year. If anything happens to his domestic market, like the depression and loss of employment in the early thirties, agriculture is at once affected. On the other hand, if anything happens to the buying power of agriculture, industry is hurt just as badly.

Right now congress is considering the renegotiation of all government contracts. The law was passed on April 28, 1942. Some people are urging that these new renegotiation bureaus should examine contracts made long before the law was passed.

Take the case of a contract made in. 1940. The work has been done and paid for; taxes have been paid to the government on the profits, if any; labor has been paid and the money balance distributed either in repairs to plant or perhaps paid in dividends to stockholders.

Danger of Retroactive Measures.

Suppose that same thing happened to our local store, or even to our farmers themselves. Suppose the prices we received for our crops, or the conservation payments by the government for 1941 or 1940 were suddenly to be "renegotiated." Every farmer has either fed out or sold his crop, purchased new machinery or perhaps painted the barn, or bought a new dress for his wife. If, under a retroactive law, he were suddenly put up against the threat of renegotiation, all of his credit, and perhaps even his investment would be disturbed.

No one wants unfair profits or excessive dividends out of war contracts. Investigation has shown that over 95 per cent of industry and business made no excessive profits out of the war. Certainly no farmers have received excessive prices for farm crops.

Now Is the Time for Unity

We want to get on with this war. We must have unity. Unity is based upon mutual confidence in our government and in each other. We are all looking forward to a return of peace after the war has been won. We will then want to resume our domestic markets, replace worn-out farm machinery and resume our normal trade relationships. Industry and business will need all of their American ingenuity and strength to provide jobs which, in turn, furnish our domestic market after the war.

True, renegotiation at present is applied only to industry and contracts with the government. But we all recognize the good old American principle that what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.

If business contracts can be renegotiated under a law passed long after the business contracts were made, how about the sanctity of our own contracts?

Just now the fire seems far from our own neighborhood, but if we look closely, our domestic markets, both now and after the war, are involved. We can well take time off to show a little neighborly spirit and help put out the fire.

The Peoples' Edict

Money to pay for the war, yes; but no money for frills in the civil operations of any of our governing bodies. That is the edict of the American people.

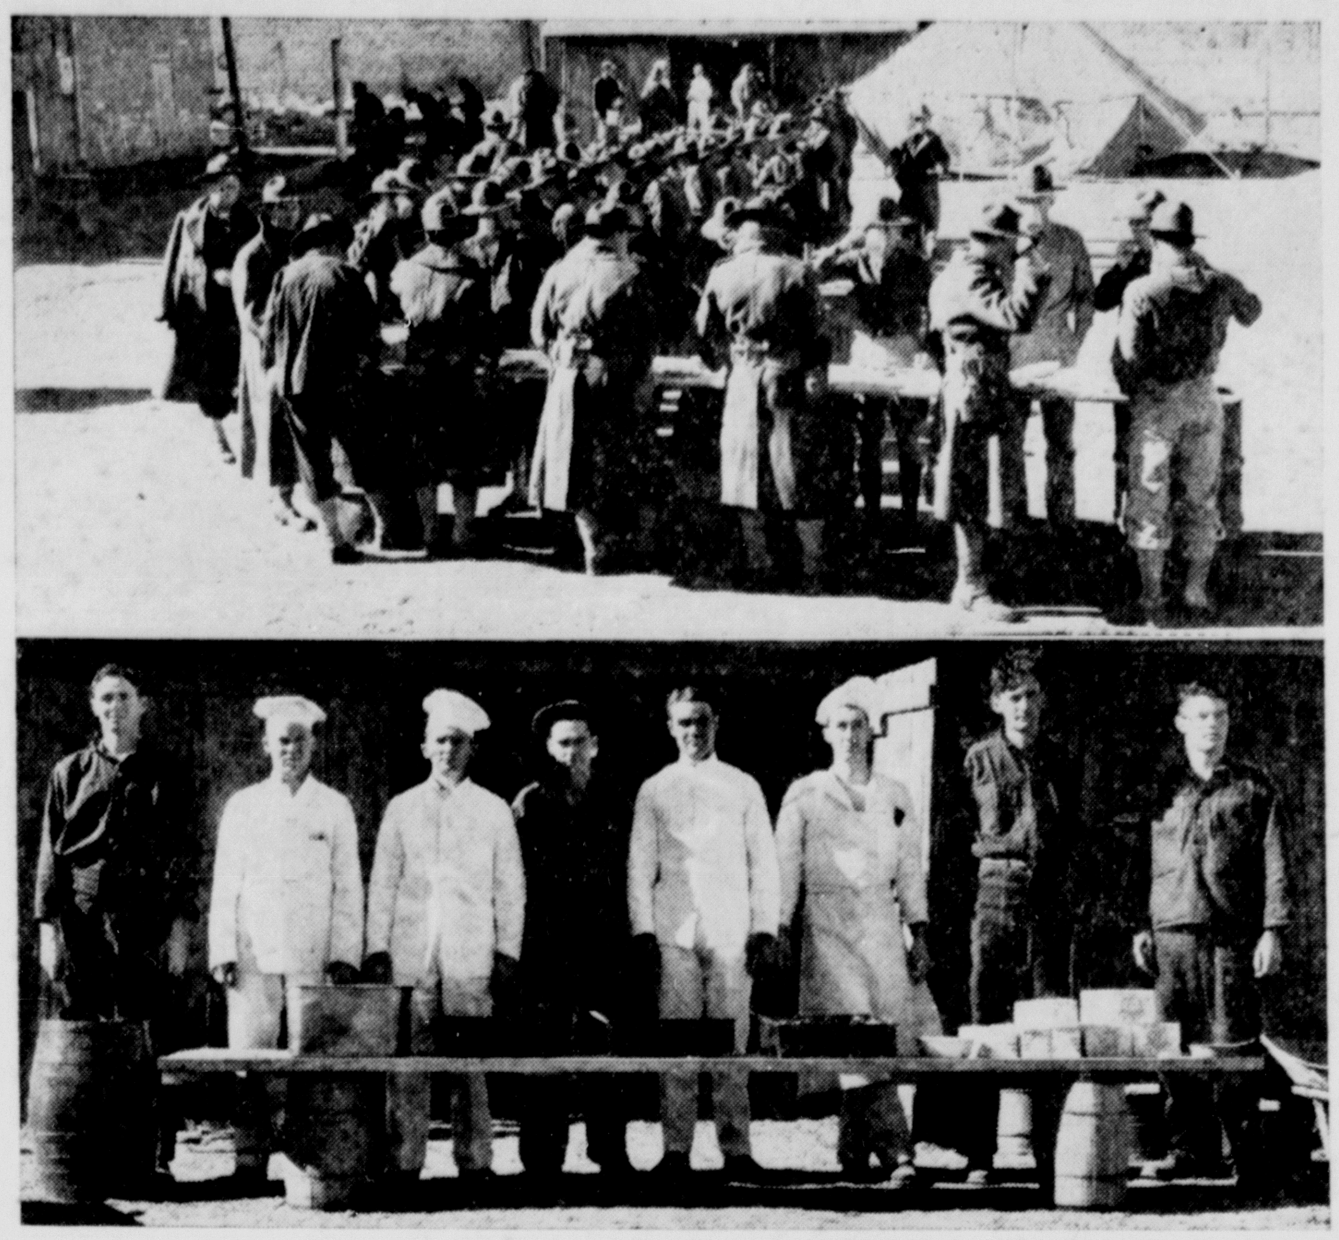
Company F Getting Ready for Training in the First Camp



Company F was inducted in federal service in October, 1940. The boys left Canyon for Camp Bowie in January, 1941. While most of the 83 men from Canyon have been transferred to other units, there are a considerable number still in the 36th Division.

CAMP EDWARDS, Mass.—Texans, swaggering thousands of them, are making news in New England these days. And they are impatient to make history—for these Texans are members of the Lone Star State's National Guard turned Uncle Sam's 36th Division, and months of training has prepared them to show Texas something to be proud of.

Far from home these men sing the praises of their native state—"the best darn nation in the world," they call it—when the serious business of their stay on Cape Cod is relaxed and they dot the cape's landscape with their T-patch shoulder insignia which has now become as commonplace to natives as fishing tackle.

The training these drawling southwesterners are undergoing is well suited to their ruggedness. They have maneuvered from Buzzards Bay to historic Provincetown. They pitched their tents among the strange Cape Cod pines and fired their booming artillery into its wastelands. On lurching invasion barges they've steamed across choppy, unruly waters of the Atlantic and were taught to kill or be killed. They've blown up hastily-erected "enemy" positions and trained day and night in driving downpours and Cape Cod blizzards.

And because of these things they've become hardened, capable infantrymen, artillerymen, antitank men, engineers, and cold, ready-to-kill Rangers.

Proof of their readiness to face the enemy is the manner in which they have faced the hazards of Camp Edwards' no-man's land, the most dangerous training course at the cape's encampment.

On this course, among the litter of dead stumps, logs and trees, 36th Division soldiers slither and creep through mud as machine-gun bullets zip scant inches over their heads and dynamite discharges splatter them with mud and debris. If trips across this course don't fit men for the real no-man's land, nothing will.

In free moments these Texans, and the wives of some who came along to this quaint peninsula which just into the Atlantic have experienced no difficulty in acclimating themselves. They now prepare the cape's tasty clam chowder and other seafood delicacies with the same easy finesse they once prepared hot tamales and chili. Many of them for the first time have felt the tug of fish on rod and the whir of line leaving reel. Maybe the change in mode of living hasn't been exactly easy for these Texas-bred soldiers but judging by outward appearances at least, they have made a marked success of it.

But, mind you, Texas is still their first love, and in their zeal they have even made their commanding General, Ohio - born Major Gen. Fred Walker, a citizen of the Lone Star Nation.

Understand Bomb Explosion Effect?

Earth shock, one of the most dangerous and least understood effects of bomb explosions, endangers large and small buildings of nearly every type of construction and foundation in an area under attack. With the exception of all-steel or concrete frame buildings, all structures are affected to some degree by the vibrational effect, or earth shock, produced by a bomb explosion below the surface of the earth, an effect which is similar to that of a local earthquake, except that earthquake movements may be said to be slower.

Who's Who

Here are pictured a number of "children" of a few years ago, who may be considered very much "grown ups" today. Do you recognize them?

The News will give a prize of $3 for the first correct list of names submitted of these pictures; $2 for second correct list; $1 for third correct list. Just list the name on a sheet of paper: No. 1 ……………………; No. 2 ……………………; and down through the list.

Takes Broad Detour

Ancient caravan trails, some modernized and capable now of handling truck traffic, are the only means of ground transportation from Lake Chad to the northern war theater. Of these, two routes stand out on the map. One (more than 2,000 miles long) makes a broad detour through the Chad colony of French Equatorial Africa, turning westward finally to join a road that cuts across eastern Libya all the way to the Mediterranean port of Bengasi. The other (the one which runs from the northwest shore of Lake Chad to Tripoli) passes through French West Africa and western Libya.

'The Little Cove'

Situated 410 miles east of Tripoli and 150 miles west of Bengasi, El Agheila fronts the sea, with boggy salt marshes at its back. These natural barriers determine the defensive position by squeezing the coastal passageway into a rather narrow corridor. As a town, El Agheila (the little cove) is of small significance. Less than a thousand people live in it. Wartime facilities include an air field and a radio station, supplemented by a hospital and food stores.

Victory Concert Nets $2,122.40

Roberts Directs Grade Musical

March Purchases Render Nearly Enough for Jeep

March has not found the Canyon Grade School students loafing for during the month they have been responsible for the selling of $2,801.40 in stamps and bonds! Friday night the Grade School Victory Concert, attended by around seven hundred persons, netted a total of $2,122.40.

Since only $900 is required for the purchase of one jeep, they will be able to buy two of these cars and still have count to be placed on another.

Leading in the daily purchases was Mrs. L. M. Cousins' fourth grade, with a total of $155.80. Amounts for the other classes, most of which represent purchases by 100 per cent of the pupils, are:

Mrs. M. S. Bishir's first grade, $96.70.

Mrs. T. W. Collins' first grade, $60.

Mrs. Stella Murrell's second grade, $30.

Mrs. R. B. Davis' second grade, $19.80.

Mrs. Houston P. Doughty's third grade, $55.60.

Miss Sarah Thompson's third grade, $22.70.

Miss Florence McMurray's fourth grade, $33.10.

Miss Myrtle Hall's fifth grade, $21.15.

Mrs. Andy Walsh's fifth grade, $53.40.

Mrs. John Davis' sixth grade, $73.75.

Mrs. A. K. Goodman's sixth grade, $57.00.

Mrs. Murrell's second grade has acquired its 100 per cent by a Thrift Club. The only requirement for membership is owning a war stamp book. At first, only a few pupils were in the club, but gradually the membership increased, and now every pupil in the class is a member of the club.

BUY — HELP — BOOST

Did you ever stop to think how many people you are aiding when you buy war stamps and bonds?

FIRST, you are helping yourself. You are investing in the future. You probably won't miss 10 or 25 cents a week spent for stamps, but in the long run these small purchases may total substantial sums.

SECOND, you are helping those in the American armed forces. Perhaps you have a brother, sister, or cousin in the services. They need good clothes, good food, and weapons with which to fight. Let's supply the best.

THIRD, you are helping your class. Canyon High is encouraging each class to have 90 per cent of its members buying stamps and bonds regularly.

FOURTH, you are helping your school in its campaign to sell enough bonds and stamps by April 19 to buy a jeep.

Buy all the stamps and bonds you can and help yourself, your friends in the armed forces, your class, and your school.

Canyon Grade School pupils have contributed $49.10 to the Senior Red Cross. This excludes contributions by the faculty.

Students Agree on Attributes Admired in a Model Teacher

What qualities do you most admire in your teachers?

Such was the question asked of numerous students of Canyon High School in an attempt to learn what kind of teacher would rate "tops" with his students.

"Foremost," said one pupil, "I want a teacher to know thoroughly the thing he is attempting to put over to the students. Any teacher who lacks this quality is defeating the purpose of his being there."

Model Teacher Described

Every student interviewed agreed that a model teacher is friendly, neat in appearance, considerate of extra-curricular activities, lenient, has a pleasing voice, and is consistent.

One student remarked, "I like a teacher who always keeps in mind that students, especially during these war times, are carrying an extra-heavy load, and plans home assignments accordingly. A thoughtful teacher realizes that many of these home assignments can be eliminated by well-planned class periods."

Should Be Impartial

"Of course," volunteered another student, "everyone likes a teacher who is impartial. I know it's almost impossible for a teacher not to like the scholar who does his work cheerfully and well better than the one who is continually grumbling about the terrific amount of work he does. Nevertheless, the wise teacher learns to keep from showing partiality to the more scholastic student."

Another quality greatly admired by the majority of the questioned students was the ability of a teacher to gain control of his class, not by arguments or threats, but by a firmness that makes students realize he means what he says, but still remains on the friendly side.

Teachers of Canyon High were complimented highly by the students who were questioned as all agreed that this school has an unusually good "crop" of teachers this year.

Major Phillips Addresses Students Concerned by War Time Problems

"Even if it requires much work and study, I suggest that you all go to school to learn to think," said Major Frank Phillips from Amarillo Air Field as he addressed the high school students in assembly last Friday. "One of the most beneficial acts a civilian of school age may do to further the war effort is to study English, sciences, and other subjects that require much thinking. This will help prepare the mind for activities in the armed forces."

After enumerating several duties of a school student, Major Phillips listed qualifications, activities, and beginning training points of a cadet. Many questions of general interest were asked by the student body.

To give everyone a chance to view a jeep and to build the sales of stamps and bonds, the Major, Corporal Oliver Day, and Private Charles Anderson brought a jeep from Amarillo Field. Each person in both high school and grade school was given the privilege of scrutinizing the car, and the seniors were each given a trial ride.

If you will forgive us for the April Fool Edition, I, Wooch, will see, with your permission, that this is in much better condition.

A left-over from last week too good to miss: On last Monday at the start of the new time system, Supt. Speer went into the hall and was distressed beyond words! Where had all his students gone? Someone had to break the news to him; it was after 4 o'clock and school was out!

Lady: "My goodness, where is the noodle? I've pushed and pulled everything in the car!"

"If you don't marry me, I'll take a rope and hang myself in your front yard."

"Ah, now, George, you know pa doesn't want you hanging around here."

Team Will Attend Invitation Meet

Canyon High track stars will sink their teeth into competition for the first time this year when they attend the invitation track meet at Claude Saturday.

Coach Milton Sanders reported that he would take as many boys as transportation facilities allowed.

Evelyn Black and Donald Cox, who have had appendicitis operations in an Amarillo hospital about three weeks ago, returned to school Monday.

After traveling by train, bus, and plane, Shirley Harrell returned Monday from a week-end in Boonesville, Missouri.

Moving to Marlow, Oklahoma, are Manuel Beavers, first grade, and Claudine Beavers, sixth grade, who withdrew Friday.

School Initiates New Drill Plan

Officials Name Emergency Fire and Raid Directions

Texas regulations concerning the execution of fire drills are in operation in Canyon High School. Through practice the aims of the drills are being reached; they are to train occupants to exit from the building orderly and quickly, and to teach self-control in times of emergency.

Fire chief J. Spencer Winn and Supt. J. B. Speer have forwarded the organization and are in charge of operations.

In the hall, centrally located, is the fire gong which signals all students in the building. There is also a hook board to place room tags, thus enabling the fire chief to know when each room is evacuated.

By signs in class rooms, captains and monitors, which have been chosen for each period, know to which exit their class must go.

Drills at different periods of the day enable students to acquaint themselves with the quickest exits from all points in the building.

Sometime during the year, obstructed drills will give the students experience in changing their routine quickly and orderly to some new exit. A red block or flag is placed before several doors in this drill indicating that these doors are stopped by imaginary fire.

Fire signals, used all over Texas, are as follows: Fire, three bells; return, two bells.

"We will work for better discipline and more orderly lines in the future, but we are doing well in these practices," said Supt. Speer.

Volley Ball Claims School Interest

Clashing for the first time since competitive volley ball with other schools was discontinued in Canyon High School, girls' intramural volley ball teams have played at noon every day this week, and will probably finish their tournament on Wednesday of next week.

To open the tournament Monday, a close game was played between the seventh and eighth grade teams, with the eighth grade as victor. Similar games were played between the freshmen and sophomores on Tuesday and between the juniors and seniors on Wednesday.

All teams are coached by Miss Amaryllis Robinson, physical education instructor, with management of the separate teams being by their elected captains. These captains are: Billye Gill, seventh grade; Betty Ann Miller, eighth; Evelyn Garrison, ninth; Lorene Seales, tenth; Margaret Prichard, eleventh; and Tommy Lou Ford, twelfth.

Two soldiers had just managed to stagger aboard a street car, reports Stars and Stripes. One of them turned to the nearest uniformed person and offered fare. "Sorry I can't take it," replied the stranger, "I'm a naval officer."

"Holy smoke, Joe," shouted the jeep to his buddy, "lets get offa here. We've boarded a bloomin' battleship.

Hubby: "Have you ever wondered what you would do if you had Rockefeller's income?"

Wife: "No, but I have often wondered what Rockefeller would do if he had mine."

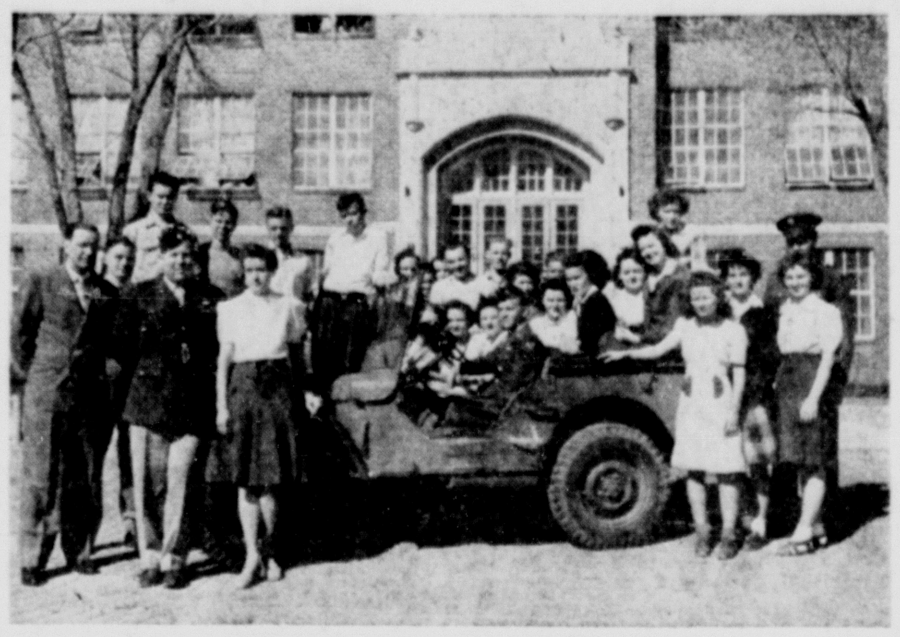
Seniors Ride In Jeep



Buy STAMPS and BONDS! Our "Buy a Jeep Campaign" closes April 19 and must climax a successful drive for selling more stamps for victory. Canyon High seniors, shown surrounding an Amarillo Air Field jeep, helped welcome three visiting men from the air field Friday. These men gave time and effort to forward our efforts.

Major Frank Phillips, left, was the guest speaker in the Canyon High assembly Friday. Standing with Major Phillips are Supt. J. B. Speer and Mrs. Guy B. Tabor, senior sponsor. Corporal Oliver Day is seated in the jeep while Private Charles Anderson stands on the right.

Cagemen Give Coach Basketball Jacket

As a reward for all his hard work, heart-aches, and jokes, Coach Milton Sanders received a gray and purple jacket from the basketball team last Monday.

Almost identical to those of the lettermen, Coach Sanders' jacket has the word COACH written across the top of his letter, "C."

After the presentation of the jacket, Supt. J. B. Speer took out his famous paddle and tempted the basketeers to give Coach Sanders a few honorary strokes. The hoopsters, however, refused the offer.

Two Classes Win Victory Contest

Success in attaining a 100 per cent average of class members buying bonds and stamps permitted both the seniors and the freshmen to fly their flags last week.

Other class percentages were: juniors, 77 per cent; sophomores, 68 per cent; seventh grade, 62 per cent; and eighth grade, 48 per cent.

"Students who are not purchasing bonds or stamps at the present time are urged to begin doing so to help their class, the school, and the nation," said Supt. J. B. Speer.

FHT Girls Make Orders for Pins

Canyon F. H. T. club members ate lunch on the school lawn last Friday at noon, after which the yearbook committee, headed by Vergie Haines, gave a report on its work. Following the collection of an order for club pins, the group decided to boost its membership by permitting students not in the department to join.

Combats Highlite Sports Schedule

Young sports fans this month have centered their interests on the sixth and seventh grades, where intramural competition is keen.

Three volley ball games comprise this week's schedule, three basketball combats having been played last week. Seventh graders won the first two games 12-17 and 12-23, but in the third game, the sixth grade won with a 10-8 victory.

Three softball games will be played next week, and three track meets are slated for the following week.

A similar schedule soon will be arranged for the fifth and sixth grades.

Miss Myrtle Hall and Mrs. John Davis, grade school physical education instructors for boys and girls, respectively, and Milton Sanders, high school physical education director, are in charge of the sports events.

Regional Replaces District Meets

There will be no district meets this year in the Texas Interscholastic League, according to F. E. Savage, principal of the Demonstration School of West Texas State College, who is director of this district.

Regional meets, however, will be held; April 24 has been set as the date for the meet in this region. This event, which will be held at West Texas State, will include typing, essay writing, track and field running, tennis playing, and girls' volley ball combating.

Regional competition this year replaces both county and district meets, which have been eliminated so that transportation of athletic and literary teams may be reduced to a minimum. Regional winners will qualify for the state meet to be held at Austin, May 7 and 8.

ILPC Bestows Service Award

Eligible Staffs May Send Delegates to Convention

Thus establishing it as one of the nation's leading high school newspapers of its class, Canyon High School's Eagle's Tale has won two honors on papers printed this year. It took first place rating in its class from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, and the Award of Honor in Journalism from the Interscholastic League Press Conference.

Sponsored by Columbia University, the C. S. P. A. is a national organization embracing the entire United States, and a first place rating by this organization is an outstanding honor.

Schools Equal Rating

Exceeded only by the Award of Distinguished Merit, the Award of Honor in Journalism is the second highest award conferred by the Interscholastic League Press Conference. Only two other Class B papers in Texas received this rating.

According to the I. L. P. C. Bulletin, this award was given the Eagle's Tale for its "general excellence and its meritorious service to its school during the year 1942-43."

Contests Held

Delegates from every press club enrolled in the I. L. P. C. are invited to Austin May 6 and 7 to discuss the production of school papers for next year and the careers of journalists who will be graduated from high school this year.

Five statewide journalism contests will be held in connection with the conference.

Dressmakers Give Tea for Mothers

Vergie Haines received first place on the dress she modeled at a recent tea given by fifth period Homemaking II students for their mothers and friends. Florence Buchanan and Margaret Lair won second and third places, respectively.

Virgie's costume was a two-piece dress of black and white checked rayon taffeta trimmed with black rick-rack. It was worn with a black pill-box hat, and white shoes and anklets.

Florence wore a full blue skirt with wide straps, trimmed with white wool yarn edging, and a white blouse; while Margaret modeled a two-piece dress of red and white butcher's linen with white collar and cuffs.

Student-teacher of the class is Mrs. Fran Caldwell, and student-observer is Miss Roberta Nicholson, who will teach the class' next unit. Judges of the dresses were Mrs. Lucille Townsend, Mrs. Robert W. Jones, and Mrs. W. F. Haggard.

Guests were Supt. J. B. Speer and Mesdames Alfred Woods, Jack Woods, John Moody, A. K. Knott, Gladys Haines, Hattie Buchanan, Henry Brumme, J. A. Wiseman, Gene Root, Jewel S. Tabor, M. B. Brown and Tom Lair.

V-NEWS

From Randall County Mome Economists

Are you having trouble with meal planning? Here are some "do's" and "don'ts" that may help you.

1. Think of the whole day as a unit; have breakfast standard, make dinner the main meal and fill out with luncheon or supper.
2. Use some food from each of the food classes for each meal.
3. Have one hot dish each meal.
4. Have one food with "staying" quality (fat) in each meal. (Because fats are slow in leaving the digestive tract, they tend to keep one from feeling hungry.)
5. Have one food that requires a great deal of chewing. (Fruits and vegetables serve this purpose).
6. Use some food providing bulk or fiber.
7. Use mild flavored foods along with strong flavored foods.
8. Have some soft and some crisp foods in each meal.
9. Have variety of color, form and arrangements of foods.
10. Do not have repetition of a food in the same meal or in the same day without varying its form. (Staples such as bread are exceptions).
11. Do not have many rich foods in one meal.
12. Remember a variety of foods attractively served will solve most problems.

Following are "meal patterns" which make it easy to make the daily menus:

WARWICK'S

Wild Life Refuge Established at T-Anchor Farm

Prof. Spencer Whippo of the agricultural department announced Friday that the T-Anchor farm which is owned by the college has been declared a game reserve and bird sanctuary. The reserve will be used by nature classes in their study of wild life, and possibly later by the women's physical education department as a recreation spot.

A full time employee of the college has been appointed deputy sheriff to aid in protecting the fish and other wild life from trespassers.

Dean Warns Men Not to Leave for War Prematurely

A warning that college men may not withdraw at will, expecting to enter the armed forces, and still get spring semester credits on degrees was issued Monday by Dean R. P. Jarrett.

Such credits will be granted only under specified conditions. These include (1) an actual call to military duty on a specified date; (2) reporting for duty on that date; and (3) furnishing the Registrar with proof of induction, immediately.

College men should remain in college until the week of actual induction, Dean Jarrett said, and they should confer with him before leaving. On no other basis will spring semester credits or degrees be granted to men leaving for military duty.

Sanitation Aid to Cutting Hog Losses

Farmers Urged to Guard Sows in '43

Unfortunately there can be no rationing restrictions of disease germs, so it is up to the farmers to guard their sows from unsanitary conditions that lead to heavy losses from mange, swine erysipelas, hog cholera, worms and swine pox.

According to specimens received at the laboratory of animal pathology and hygiene at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, swine pox is causing some losses in this state. While not usually a serious disease in itself, it leads to other diseases and can be a complicating factor.

Occurrence of swine pox to any appreciable extent in the herd might be taken as a warning signal that all is not well, since it occurs under conditions favoring or fostering other infectious and parasitic diseases. Hog cholera virus should not be used as an immunizing agent in herds showing extensive pox. It is commonly spread from pig to pig by the hog louse. Widespread pox usually goes hand in hand with a relatively heavy louse infection.

Hogs like wheat. See how they go after it!

Wormy pigs waste feed, gain weight slowly, have damaged lungs, become unthrifty and die. Many become susceptible to other diseases.

Farrowing quarters should be cleaned regularly by scrubbing with boiling lye water and then spraying with cresol. Sows should be washed before being placed in the farrowing pen. Pigs and sows should be hauled to pasture or driven over ground from which pigs have been absent for a year. Raising pigs on clean pasture is the most satisfactory method.

Mange is caused by a microscopic mite that burrows into the skin, causing great irritation, "elephant hide," loss of hair and unthriftiness.

Agriculture in Industry

By FLORENCE C. WEED

Poultry

There are more chickens in Iowa than any other state, while Texas ranks second in chickens and also leads the turkey population. In 1928, there were 475,000,000 chickens on American farms but since then, the number has declined.

While the great bulk of poultry is sold alive or as cold storage fowls, there are a few commercial uses for by-products. Animal feeding stuffs are taking some packing house trimmings such as legs, visceral fat and heads. Food for pet cats and dogs uses killing plant offal to some extent. When research has gone further, it may be possible to extract therapeutic products from glands of chicken heads and recover gelatine from chicken legs which would have surgical uses. Scientists believe that the available supply of 20,000 tons of feathers might be used in plastics. Goose feathers have long been marketed for pillow stuffing.

It is possible now to obtain dried whole egg, dried egg yolk and dried egg albumen. These products are imported but might be produced here. Non-food uses of eggs are getting more attention. The tanning industry may be able to utilize more low grade eggs. Manufacturers of frozen or dried egg materials have thousands of pounds of egg shells which are used only to a small extent as chicken feed and fertilizer.

Stepping Up Egg Yield

Feed your chickens a good laying ration if you want to get maximum egg production. A good laying mash is one composed of 200 pounds ground yellow corn; 100 pounds wheat bran or rice bran; 100 pounds meat scraps or shrimp meal; and 100 pounds ground oats. Where meat scraps are used in place of shrimp meal, add one pound salt to the mash mixture. One hundred laying hens will consume between 23-25 pounds of this mixture.

The world price of rubber was 22½ cents a pound before the treacherous Japs seized the East Indies and obtained control of the rich rubber supplies of the Far East.

Today they are offering the rubber for ⅝ of a cent to 1 cent a pound . . . with no takers, even by Nippon's Axis partners, because the United Nations blockade has cut off shipping from Singapore.

As an American whose driving has been coupon-rationed . . . not because of lack of gasoline . . . but by a serious shortage of rubber . . . be thankful for the blockade which has made the Jap bargain sale of rubber a flop. Be thankful too that there is no U.S. blockade on research.

Long before the war, the Phillips research laboratories, always engaged in seeking new and better things from petroleum, was learning the secrets of synthetic rubber and 100 octane aviation motor fuel.

This knowledge and Phillips great resources of raw materials are now teamed in the war effort.

Our part in winning the war is to expand enormously the production of synthetic rubber and 100 octane aviation motor fuel. Your part is to reduce driving and thus conserve rubber, until midsummer 1944 . . . the date on which Rubber Director William H. Jeffers predicts that with your help "...the American people will be over the hump of the rubber problem."

When victory comes, when you can again PHILL-UP with PHILLIPS to your heart's content, we confidently promise you that today's concentration on petroleum research will bring you almost undreamed of improvement in Phillips 66 Gasoline.

The Daily "7" Food Rules For Good Nutrition

HERE ARE THE REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD EAT THESE FOODS EVERY DAY!

THE GROUP . . .	BECAUSE THEY GIVE . . .
1 MILK AND MILK PRODUCTS	Calcium for bones and teeth. Protein for growth, muscle and repair of the body. Sugar for energy to work and play. Vitamins for health and vigor.
2 ORANGES, TOMATOES, GRAPEFRUIT 3 GREEN OR YELLOW VEGETABLES 4 OTHER VEGETABLES, FRUITS	Calcium for bones and teeth. Iron for healthy blood. Other necessary minerals. Sugar and starch for energy to work and play. Vitamins for health and vigor.
5 BREAD AND CEREAL	Iron for healthy blood. Starch for energy to work and play. Protein for growth, muscle and repair of the body. Vitamins for health and vigor.
6 MEAT, POULTRY FISH OR EGGS	Protein for growth, muscle and repair of the body. Iron for healthy blood. Vitamins for health and vigor.
7 BUTTER AND OTHER SPREADS	Fat for energy to work and play. Vitamins for health and vigor.

The Government Food Rules do not say that these are the only foods you should eat. It means that you should have at least these foods every day. In other words, FIRST, EAT THESE FOODS—THEN, EAT ANY OTHER FOODS YOU WANT.

MEN OVER 38 WILL NOT BE DISCHARGED

The War Department on March 31 stopped the discharging of men over 38 years old. Hereafter, such individuals will be transferred to an inactive status in the enlisted reserve corps, subject to the following conditions:

The man must request transfer to an inactive status to enter an essential industry, including agriculture, and accompany his request by a statement from the Manpower Commission to the effect that his release is desired.

The man will be recalled to active duty upon request of the War Manpower Commission.

WIVES OF SERVICE MEN TO GET MATERNITY CARE

Maternity care for wives of service men and care for their infants will be available shortly for those who apply to State Health Departments, according to Katherine F. Lenroot, Chief of the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor. Following appropriation by Congress of $1,200,000 to meet estimated needs to July, plans are being rushed to extend such aid to women in the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico.

MAXIMUM PRICES FOR MEAT

Maximum prices for all retail cuts of pork went into effect throughout the U. S. April 1, and the OPA will issue, in the immediate future, similar schedules of maximum retail prices for beef, lamb, mutton, and veal. Price Administrator Brown regards the action as a major blow against the black market in meants and a step toward simplifying retail food pricing.

TIRES AND FARM EQUIPMENT

Tire dealers or persons selling or servicing farm equipment are now entitled to keep on hand a maximum of six rear-wheel tractor tires. Dealers who have the replenishment portions (part B) of rationing certificates calling for truck tires may restock with tires suitable for farm equipment instead.

GAS FOR SCHOOL BUSSES

School bus operators who did not receive revised Certificates of War Necessity before April 1 may obtain supplemental gasoline allowances if necessary, ODT has announced. An appeal form may be obtained from the nearest ODT district office.

EXAMINATIONS FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Since the outbreak of war, the U. S. Public Health Service has given X-ray examinations for tuberculosis to nearly a quarter of a million people. Slightly more than one in every 100 persons examined have significant tuberculosis of the lungs. From 55 to 60 per cent of the cases are in the early stage most amendable to treatment, usually without sanatorium care. From 35 to 45 per cent of the cases discovered are moderately advance, and only three of four per cent far advanced.

RELIEF FOR BATTERY SHORTAGE

Some relief is anticipated in the current farm radio battery shortage, the WBP has announced. Lack of batteries has been acute in those farm areas where radio reception depends solely on battery sets. In some sections of these areas, reports have indicated that as many as one-third of the farm radios have been inoperative due to a lack of batteries.

MORE ICE BOXES

About 400,000 household refrigerators, 148,847 electric and gas-operated and the rest "ice-boxes," will be available to the general public this spring, according to the WPB. Only those who cannot be served by other types of refrigeration are eligible to buy gas or electric refrigerators, the order provides.

LEGAL HELP FOR SOLDIERS

Free legal assistance will be available for all military personnel under a plan sponsored jointly by the American Bar Association and the War Department. Legal assistance offices will be established at each post, camp and station in the U. S. A qualified commissioned officer who is also a licensed attorney is to be appointed by the commanding officer of the post as the legal assistance officer. Volunteer civilian lawyers from nearby communities will help.

ADVANCE PAYMENT OF POINTS

Payment of points "in advance" for home deliveries of butter and cheese by dairymen or salesmen operating mobile conveyances over a regular delivery route has been authorized by OPA. For example, the housewife who on Monday wants a pound of butter left at her home the following Thursday, can give the deliveryman eight currently valid stamps to cover the later delivery.

CEILINGS ON VEAL

Maximum prices have been established for veal at packer and wholesale levels in all parts of the country as the government continues its nation-wide campaign to protect housewives against excessive prices and black markets. Veal is outranked only by pork and beef in national meat sales.

FOOD DISTRIBUTION DISCONTINUED

Distribution of foods through state welfare departments to local communities for use in school lunch programs is being discontinued on April 30. Under a new program announced in February, schools are able to purchase foods locally for their programs and receive reimbursement in part from the Food Distribution Administration.

RECLASSIFICATION OF MAN-POWER

The Bureau of Selective Service of the Man Power Commission began on April 1 to reclassify registrants in certain activities and occupations designated on February 2 as "non-deferrable" regardless of dependents. This order affects only registrants of military age.

2,000 SACKS OF ARMY MAIL LOST

Through enemy action more than two thousand sacks of U. S. mails carried on United Nations ships and destined for American soldiers overseas in recent weeks have been lost, the Army postal service reports. In Making this announcement, the War Department said that the loss of these mails was a striking illustration of why V-mail should be more fully utilized in communicating with soldiers overseas since 30,000,000 pieces of such mail have been handled thus far without the loss of a single letter. This is made possible by holding the originals at the ports of embarkation until the duplicate copies arrive safely at their overseas destinations.

CEILINGS ON USED VEHICLES

Used commercial motor vehicles have been brought under price control by OPA. By establishing ceilings at a percentage of the value of the vehicle when new, the new regulation is expected to halt the activities of speculators which have resulted in some instances in prices what are 200 per cent or more over the normal value of the used truck.

Mary Ruth Hill spent the week end with Ava Margaret Dooley.

The Stitch and Chatter Club met with Mrs. H. L. Heizer Thursday afternoon.

MORE NEW CARS

A quota of 38,000 new passenger automobiles was set by the OPA for rationing in April. By states, the quotas include 2,690 for Texas, 650 for Oklahoma, and 578 for Louisiana.

H. D. Council Meeting Saturday

The Randall County Home Demonstration Council met in the court house Saturday afternoon at 2:30. There were seventeen members present, representing seven clubs. A very interesting report was given by Mrs. Elmer Mason from the Highland club on a "42" tournament that has been going on in their club for for the past two weeks. They have raised money for the Red Cross, and have also enjoyed the social hours together.

Mrs. R. T. Normand a member of the finance committee presented the 1943 council budget, and it was accepted by the council body.

Mrs. J. V. Williams, chairman of the exhibit committee read the report of this committee and it was accepted by the council body.

Mrs. S. G. Elliott, chairman of the marketing committee, gave a very interesting report on intellectual buying with the point system. She urged the club women to exchange ideas, and to talk over their problems together, so they won't have to waste precious time at the grocery store. Work out a good system to use and help the groceryman as well as yourself. Keep yourself informed and be an intellectual buyer.

Through cooperative buying the county saved $106.47 on the purchase of 340 fruit trees and 160 grape vines during the month of March.

The Annual District meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association will be held in Amarillo, May 11. Mrs. Lonnie Byars, present council chairman was voted by the council to be a candidate for the vice-chairman of District I. She was presented to council by Mrs. John Jennings, president of the Ralph Club of which Mrs. Byers is a member.

The three delegates elected from council to attend the district meeting were Mrs. W. T. Davis, alternate Mrs. Charles Thurmon; Mrs. John Jennings, alternate Mrs. R. T. Normand; and Mrs. Jack Baker, alternate Mrs. Henry Brumme.

Mrs. Buchanan, of Burkburnett, mother of Mrs. Henry Brumme of the Zita Club, was a visitor.

Buffalo Lake Opening

In addition to the fishing permit necessary to fish in Buffalo Lake, users of artificial lures are cautioned to secure their State license to be within the law. Such license will be available at the lake through State Game Wardens of this area.

Speed boats have been reconditioned for the boating season and are ready to offer thrilling rides to speed fans.

Ample picnic sites, free admission, paved roads, something happening every minute of the day and night plus opening of the fishing season is expected to be a welcome refreshment even if for a day from the rationing system, war and other nerve-racking news of the day.

Mrs. Golding is acting as concessionaire of the lake in the absence of her husband who is with the U. S. Marines in Guadalcanal. When Golding enlisted almost one year ago the government agreed for his wife to assume the management duties of the lake.
